THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

The Prince of Wales Coming to Chicago.

MONTREAL, August 27.

To Newspapers of Chicago, without distinction of party:

Lord LYONS this moment replies, that the Prince of Wales will visit Chicago, and that his stay and visit westward depend on the quiet allowed.

Lady FRANKLIN will also visit us.

JOHN WENTWORTH.

We presume that the Prince will take Milwaukee in route, on his westward journey, as he will probably come by the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway.

Population of Cincinnati.

The population of the city of Cincinnati, as ascertained by the census enumeration of 1860, is 159,851. Comment is useless. We believe the census was well taken, and it is folly to lay our general disappointment at the door of the Assistant Marshals.—Cincinnati Commercial, 27th.

In 1850, the population of Cincinnati was 115,435, so that the increase in ten years has been 43,896. All the Western cities fall short, more or less, of the estimates made by too enthusiastic residents. CINCINNATI, which claimed some 200,000, has less than 160,000. ST. LOUIS, rated at 175,000, will have barely 150,000. CHICAGO, reckoned at 150,000, turns out about 118,000. DETROIT has 55,000 against a claim of 75,000. In our own city, the census gives us about 45,000 inhabitants, where many looked for 55,000. The last three years have been hard ones for the West, but such another season as this of 1860, will make us all right again. The West is bound to "go ahead," in spite of all temporary checks and hindrances.

THE POPULATION OF CLEVELAND.—The Democrat presents the following full returns of the census of Cleveland:

	1850.		1860.
First Ward	1,856	Seventh Ward	2,178
Second Ward	1,999	Eighth Ward	2,259
Third Ward	2,000	Ninth Ward	3,663
Fourth Ward	1,509	Tenth Ward	2,570
Fifth Ward	1,991	Eleventh Ward	3,217
Sixth Ward	1,056
Total			45,550

Cleveland, in 1850, before the addition of Ohio City, which embraced the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Wards, had a population of 17,034. By the late census, the same Wards have a population of 31,869, being an increase in ten years of 14,865, or of over 87 per cent.

In 1853, a census was taken of Cleveland and Ohio City. The total population was:

Cleveland	31,204
Ohio City	9,992
Total	41,196

A TELEGRAPH IN MINNESOTA.—The St. Paul Pioneer, of August 22d, says: "We have the pleasure of presenting this morning the first newspaper dispatch ever received in Minnesota, on wires over its own soil."—Then follows a dispatch from Red Wing, announcing the convention of the M. E. Conference at that place, and another from this city, stating that the Southern excursionists had reached here on their return from their trip up the Mississippi. Some days would elapse before the line would be fully open for business.

MORE TROUBLE ABOUT BOOTH.—The Free Democrat of last evening says that a postscript to a business letter received in this city yesterday, contains the following intelligence: "The Marshals have found BOOTH, and have got him in a house, and his friends are defending him. Some 20 or 30 armed men have just left here to assist BOOTH. We look for warm work. It is 9 miles out. In haste. HENTON."

HON. THOS. CORWIN was nominated by acclamation for re-election to Congress, by the Republicans of the Seventh (Ohio) District, on Saturday last.

CONNECTICUT.—In Hartford, the DOUGLAS State delegates were elected by a majority of 174. In noticing this fact, the Hartford Times (BRECKINRIDGE) says:

"Mr. Douglas himself advises that there be no union with Breckinridge men, but he is rejoiced to form coalitions with the Bell party. Indeed, his policy is evidently to form a 'Douglas party' by aid of the opposition party at the South, and fragments of the Black Republicans at the North. The game is not so much for the present contest as for the campaign of 1864—for in this contest it plays directly into the hands of Lincoln and Hamlin. Whether it will break down the Democratic party for four successive years is a question for the people to decide, after the separation of Democrats on on the one hand, and coalitions about to be formed on the other, shall have opened their eyes."

NEW YORK.—A New York correspondent of the Charleston Courier (Democratic) says:

"The Douglas Bell fusion cannot, I fear, amount to much. Fusion between Douglas and Breckinridge now is out of the question. Mr. Seward is perfectly right in his opinion that Lincoln will carry New York by a majority of eighty thousand. I never believed till now that he would carry it at all, even by the smallest majority. But the fight between the Douglasites and Breckinridgers not only paralyzes the Democracy, but it turns thousands of Democratic voters over to Lincoln."

THE DROUGHT IN SOUTHERN INDIANA AND ILLINOIS.—The Terre Haute Express of the 25th inst., says:

"The drought which has prevailed in this region for several weeks past, we find by our exchanges is very extensive and even more injurious in many parts of the country than in this locality. In our vicinity the corn and potatoes will suffer severely. In the timber the drought is less severely felt."

"In southern Illinois the drought, we regret to learn, has almost entirely cut off the prospects of a crop of corn, much of it being so burnt and dried up that it will not even answer for fodder. From various other portions of the country we have distressing accounts of the crops."

A Good Report from the North.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

APPLETON, Aug. 27th, 1860.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—The enthusiasm for the "rail-splitter" is increasing every day.—Everything is shaping in this section to give the Honest Candidate of the Republicans a rousing vote, far exceeding that of any previous election since the organization of the party in this State. I have taken considerable time to canvass this city, and find that it will give LINCOLN a larger majority than any Republican ever received here, but that the LINCOLN men are all honest, like their noble standard-bearer. Such men compose the Republican Party in this city. Hardly a day passes that we do not hear of men near here who have voted the Democratic ticket for years, falling in line with the Republican forces.

The "Wide-Awake" Club is prospering finely. Yours, TRUTH.

Politics and Crops in Rock County.

The Janesville Gazette, in a recent issue, called for reports from the several towns of glorious old Rock County, as to the result of the Harvest. Here is the report from the town of CLINTON, which is eminently satisfactory:

"EDITORS GAZETTE:—In your weekly issue of Aug. 24th, you asked for the opinion of farmers in Rock county, in relation to the crops of this season. In this town the work of threshing has made some progress—enough to enable us to arrive at accurate conclusions in regard to the quantity of grain produced per acre.

I have made inquiry among my brother farmers, and the universal verdict is that wheat in this town will average twenty-five bushels per acre, estimated at the lowest figures. I have heard of none falling below 20, while many fields yield thirty, and occasionally a field of "virgin soil," favored with good cultivation and the proper amount of seed, has measured out forty bushels. The berry is very plump and healthy.

The yield of oats will be fifty bushels and upwards; but it does one good to behold the fields of corn now ripening in this region—a heavy, healthy growth, the ears already hanging down filled to their very tips. Two weeks more of the present fine weather will put nearly every field beyond the reach of injury by frost.

Potatoes will be an average crop.

Our young orchards are just beginning to bear, and as this is a bearing year, we will be comparatively well supplied with substantial fruit.

In politics, it is all on one side—not opposition enough to create any sensation.—"Honest Old Abe" is the watch-word and reply. Yours truly,

D G. CHEEVER.

WHAT WALKER'S SUCCESS MEANS.—The Mobile Register copies from a New Orleans paper the announcement of WALKER'S new descent upon Nicaragua, with the following comment:

"It is difficult to overestimate the importance of this intelligence. The success of Walker we consider of far more vital moment to the South than the suicidal claim for protection which sets the brains of so many on fire, and serves so many others as a pretext to gratify their personal ambitions. No territory that we can acquire through the Federal Government can be of use to the South, and every friend of the South ought to resist acquisitions. We have not negroes enough for our own use, much less to people new countries, and the slave trade cannot be legally re-opened for a good while yet. But the establishment on our southern frontier of slaveholding republics, encouraging and legalizing the importation of Africans, injures no established financial interest of our own and gives us natural allies who may eventually, if deemed proper, be connected with us by closer ties. This is the true southern policy, and one well understood by those who have preserved their soberness of mind amid the senseless clamor which has caused so many of our people to go mad."

"POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY" AND "AGITATION."—The main argument urged in behalf of the so-called "Popular Sovereignty" of Mr. Douglas, is that it will prove a panacea for "Slavery Agitation."

It has never been tried but once. That was in the case of KANSAS. It gave rise then to the stormiest season of Slavery agitation ever known in our history!

And such must be its working everywhere. Instead of an Olive-branch, it is a firebrand.

If it is once settled, as it was by the Ordinance of 1787, that a territory is to be free soil, there can be no more agitation on the subject. On the other hand, if it is at once settled that it is slave soil, as it was in the case of Louisiana, there can be no more agitation on the subject.

But when it is intentionally left unsettled, what but agitation can follow? Agitation must continue and increase in intensity until the question is decided one way, or the other.

Every time a new territory is acquired and half a dozen settlers enter it, the agitation will begin. As emigration flows in, agitation will increase. Legislatures will be chosen upon the Slavery issue. Their enactments, whether "unfriendly," or friendly to slavery, will give rise to an animated struggle for repeal. Adjoining States cannot look on with indifference. Their sympathies, if not their interference, will be provoked, and thus the "agitation" will spread throughout the Union.

In fact, if there ever was a contrivance calculated to embitter and protract "agitation," it is the very device of Judge Douglas. Let conservative men, before they lend it the sanction of their votes, pause a moment to reflect upon its inevitable consequence, if adopted.—Albany Eve. Journal.

HOW THE SAILORS WILL VOTE.—The crews of the screw steamers Mt. Vernon, Illinois, Dunkirk and Concord have raised among themselves enough funds to purchase a handsome Lincoln and Hamlin flag for each steamer, and have hoisted the same on the respective vessels. This is at least 100 men for "Honest Old Abe."

Capt. Woodworth, of the Missouri, has always been a decided Douglas man. On Saturday morning he got a sight of the delegation that went to Dearborn. This upset his love for the searcher after his maternal parent, and he hoisted a Bell and Everett flag at his main. On taking a vote, however, of the crew, it was found that Lincoln had 29 votes, Bell one—but the captain says he will hoist his flag up and stick to it.

The crew are having a Lincoln and Hamlin one made, with the inscription: "This is the flag of the crew—the other is the captain's."

The flag of the Mt. Vernon is an indication of the way some of the Irishmen intend voting—the crew being mostly from the Emerald Isle.—Detroit Tribune.

FARINI ON THE ROPE.—Farini is really rivaling Blondin on his Niagara rope. His performance last Wednesday was indeed wonderful. He crossed in a sack, which enveloped his feet as well as his head and body, leaving only his arms free, standing on his head with this incumbrance, during the passage, and returned half way backward. The Niagara Falls Gazette says:

"There is one thing especially notable about Farini's performances. He persists in traveling on a very slack rope. It is of course very unsteady, swayed by the least wind, or by his own motion. To every appearance he cares nothing about it, and seems to dare any kind of peril."

Determined to equal Blondin, Farini announces that he will carry a man across the cable, on his back, next Wednesday, the same day on which the former proposes to perform the great feat.—Buffalo Express.

DEFAULTING POSTMASTERS.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune under date of the 23rd inst., says:

"Orders were sent from the Department some days since for the defaulting Postmaster at Iowa City; also, for another in Kentucky. There will be a rich crop of defalcations for the next thirty or sixty days."

A NEW YORKER.—The rope-walker of the Italian cognomen, Signor Farini, who has dimmed the lustre of Blondin's name, proves to be the son of a Lockport (N. Y.) grocer. His name is Wm. Hunt.

Departure of Steamers.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Huron leaves Olmsted's dock, every evening at 8 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODDENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the he Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock

CHARITY FOR WHISKEY.—A pitiful looking object was traveling through the streets last evening, showing the stump of an arm which had been amputated. The case would have been worthy of charity, but for the fact that the miserable being was as drunk as a piper. It is decidedly questionable whether a man is conferring charity, when he gives it away where it will be spent for whiskey.—Better even buy tea and send them to the Timbuctoos, than to be charitable to such beings.—Wisconsin.

The above carelessly written paragraph is unworthy the sheet from which we clip it.—Certainly no christian man would spare the most unfortunate of all creatures, a poor inebriate—who of all wretches needs charity—real charity—the most. No true philanthropist (and every editor should be such, at least in theory) will revile a drunken man, especially if maimed. To such as these charity should be strong enough to save.

A POLICEMAN ENCOUNTERS A COUPLE OF BOMBASTES FURIOSOS.—Our friend RHODES, the efficient, but not very large officer, who has charge of the Station, encountered a couple of fellows on Mason street the other evening, who were bent on cutting each other up with a pair of large butcher knives.—They backed and stabbed at one another desperately, but could not reach each other's bad blood on account of the worse whiskey which was between them. Officer RHODES, with his customary promptitude, took them both under his guardianship, and placed them in separate apartments under lock and key.

INSTRUCTION IN FRENCH.—We invite attention to the card of Madame SEIBERT in this morning's paper. Madame SEIBERT is the most competent and successful teacher of the French language we have ever had in our city. Her services as such have been engaged for the Second Ward High School, and as she will have some leisure time on her hands, she desires to receive a few pupils and private classes, at her own residence, 497 Jefferson street, or at their respective houses, as may be preferred. We commend her enterprise to public favor and patronage.

THE DAYS are sensibly shortening. There is a coolness in the evening air that reminds one of the departure of Summer. How smoothly and noiselessly it is gliding away, wrapped in golden sunsets and azure nights! The harvest is in and the granaries are filled. Music and singing is heard over the land; and while the sunny moments are growing chill, life grows more buoyant at the promise of a Winter made mellow and jubilant with the wealth of Summer months departed.

A SIGNAL OF DISTRESS.—The DOUGLAS men of the Ninth Ward, after many efforts, succeeded, on Monday evening, in erecting a small pole; about 50 feet high, and running up a DOUGLAS and JOHNSON flag on it. But the flag could only be raised half mast high, and there it hung, all day yesterday—a signal of distress on board the DOUGLAS piratical craft, and of the political death of the "Squatter Sovereign."

THE PLACE TO BUY musical instruments is at HEMPSTED'S on Main street.

We are in receipt of a couple of new pieces of music from this establishment. One is "Happy, happy be thy dreams," and the other —— is'nt. The truth is we have mislaid one and forgotten the title.

HEMPSTED is in receipt of all the latest sheet music and musical publications.

NEAT ENVELOPES.—We are indebted to Messrs. NOONAN & MCNAB for a package of very neat envelopes, especially adopted to our political views. But our DOUGLAS, BELL and BRECKINRIDGE friends can find envelopes in the same establishment, to suit them—the stationery stock of Messrs. NOONAN and MCNAB being choice and extensive.

BROKEN UP BY THE POLICE.—On Monday night the police came down rather suddenly on the house of ill-repute, kept by the notorious Madame WARNCKE, on Market street. She was arrested, together with several of the frail inmates who were of her household, and yesterday morning they were committed in default of bail.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE PANOPTICON?—That is the question! Perhaps you have no idea of what a beautiful thing it is. Let us here say that a large audience last evening were highly delighted, and that another will be to-night. So be on hand at the Academy of Music, to see the Panopticon.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL and Congregation of the First Presbyterian Church probably had a very fine time yesterday, on their picnic. The tickets sent to us, some how-or-other, did not reach, but we return our thanks just the same.

THE LYNCH CASE.—ROBERT B. LYNCH appeared in Court yesterday morning by his counsel, M. H. CARPENTER, and read a bill of exceptions. Further time was also asked in order to make application for a new trial. Court granted till Friday next.

MR. STARR is busily engaged on a new city directory, in which particular attention has been paid to getting the names of our German fellow citizens spelled right—it will probably be ready in a couple of weeks.

THE DISCUSSION at Waukesha has been set down for the 14th of next month. Half fare tickets, it is hoped, will be issued. The brilliant and popular Mr. WRIGHT, of the News, opens the debate.

IT IS STATED on good authority that preparations have been made, in case the Little Giant comes to Milwaukee, to initiate him into the order of the "thousand and one."

THE SCANDINAVIANS.—The Norwegians, Swedes and Danes of our city have organized a Republican Club and are going to work in earnest, for LINCOLN and LIBERTY.

Governor Seward in Wisconsin.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

OZAUKEE, Aug. 27th, 1860.

Gen. Rufus King, Milwaukee:

DEAR SIR:—I noticed in your paper of to day that you think that GOV. SEWARD may speak in Milwaukee on the 8th of September. I trust he will, for the citizens of this place will turn out en masse to come and hear him, but they think it too far to go to Madison. If you have any way to find out for certain whether he will speak there, I trust you will do so. We have now a Club of Wide-Awakes numbering about 50, and they will be on hand, and I think all the Lake Shore towns will turn out to come to Milwaukee. Yours truly,

N. S. TURNER.

[In reply to the question of our Ozaukee friends, we have to say that GOV. SEWARD will without doubt, visit our city and make a speech here on the 8th or 10th of September. The exact day will be known by the 4th or 5th of September, so that our friends all along the Lake Shore will have timely notice of his coming. We shall be glad to see our Lake counties well represented on the occasion.—ED. SENT.]

The meeting was called to order by E. P. HOTCHKISS, whereupon S. S. DAGGETT was called to the Chair, and H. L. LEE, appointed Secretary.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. E. P. HOTCHKISS, M. G. SMITH and M. OTTERBOURG, was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Col. L. CUTLER being called upon, addressed the meeting; after which, the committee, through the Chairman, introduced a constitution which was considered and adopted.

On motion, the Club then proceeded to ballot for officers, with the following result:

Mary Lanther and Kate Bowles arrested for being inmates of a house of ill-fame.—District Attorney required them to find bail in the sum of $100 each, to appear and testify against Mad. Warncke. In default committed.

Eliza Golden, selling liquor without license. Continued to Aug. 29th.

Robert B. Lynch appeared in Court by his attorney, M. H. Carpenter, and read from bill of exceptions to the ruling of the Court, in the case tried last week of the State against Lynch, for forgery, and asked further time to prepare for an application for a new trial. Court granted time till Friday next.

HARRY BINGHAM'S NEW RESTAURANT.—Harry Bingham opened his new saloon and restaurant, next door to his late saloon, on Washington Avenue, on Saturday evening. He has now all the conveniences and appointments of a first class saloon. Harry is a wide awake fellow, and has troops of friends.—Madison Journal.

HARRY'S many Milwaukee friends, when they visit Madison, will know where to find him. His establishment is the neatest, best supplied and best kept, in our State Capital.

MARY WILBUR, a young woman from the country, (we could not learn where) fell down in a fit on Market street yesterday afternoon. She was taken into a convenient store and properly cared for.

SEVERAL OF OUR CITIZENS left town yesterday for the harvest home at Fort Atkinson. We can only lament that inexorable circumstances kept us chained at home.

Mass Meeting to take into Consideration the Horse Railroad Matters.

We, the subscribed citizens, residents of the Second, Fourth, Sixth and Ninth Wards of Milwaukee, believing that our best interests are involved in the present question on Horse Railroads in our said Wards, and believing that this question is deserving of a full and thorough investigation from the citizens of these four Wards, hereby invite our fellow-citizens, independent of party, to assemble in Mass Meeting at the Republican Wigwam, in the Sixth Ward, on Wednesday, August 29, at half-past seven o'clock P. LARGE AND SUPERIOR STOCK.—We, this morning, present to our readers the long catalogue of new goods received by Messrs. GOODRICH & JOHNSON, 216 East Water st. We have before alluded to this establishment as one of the largest hardware and house furnishing places in town. A glance at the column advertisement in this issue will convince the most incredulous that we have not over estimated either the extent and variety, or the excellence of their stock. Mr. GOODRICH has just returned from the East with everything new and desirable that is offered in the market; and in the matter of stoves, kitchen stoves, ranges, platters and general tinware, this firm challenges competition. We, the other day, spent an hour agreeably in the examination of new improvements in cutlery, such as Indian-rubber handles to knives and forks, and of ingenious egg whips, new patent pans and pots, and we advise every housekeeper to drop in and do likewise, for there is much to be seen and learned at this well-stocked store.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF VIRTUE & CO., LONDON AND NEW YORK.—We are indebted to Mr. JOHN A. MOORE, agent for VIRTUE & Co., at the St. Charles Hotel, in this city, for samples of the new series of "The Art Journal," the splendid pictorial, published monthly by VIRTUE & Co., of London and New York. It is undoubtedly the finest work of the kind offered to the lovers of the art. The latter-press is excellent; the engravings of the first quality and the reading matter full of instruction and interest. The new series will contain the entire "Turner Gallery," which includes first-class engravings from the famous pictures of JOSEPH M. W. TURNER, the most eminent of English Landscape painters. These must be seen to be appreciated. We advise all admirers of fine plates and engravings to call on Mr. MOORE, at his rooms in the St. Charles Hotel, and see his collection of gems.

A GOOD STAGE LINE.—The Line of Stages, owned by our fellow-citizens, Messrs. DAVIS & MORE, is thus favorably noticed in the last Waushara County Republican:

"Davis' Line of Stages runs in connection with the railroad from Berlin to Stevens Point and is one of the most advantageous and substantial institutions of Northern Wisconsin. It affords the most direct, convenient and easy communication with the east and south to a very large tract of country; and of consequence the coaches are usually well filled and extras often required to convey passengers over the route. They arrive and depart with the regularity of clock-work. Everything connected with the running of this line is as it should be.

The drivers, Isaac J. Williams, Jerome King, Martin Sexton, G. Cole and S. K. Hackett, on this end of the route, are all fine fellows, gentlemanly and obliging. And all passengers who travel the road will not fail to remark the attention and kindness displayed by these "gentlemen of the whip and ribbons."

In the way of horseflesh, there are no finer looking teams in the country than those driven on this route."

SCANDINAVIAN REPUBLICAN CLUB.—Some of the Norwegians, Swedes and Danes of the City of Milwaukee assembled in the Fifth Ward on the evening of the 27th inst., and formed a Republican Club, and pledged their names for the support of LINCOLN and HAMLIN, as well as the Republican nominations in general for the ensuing election.—After the club had been formed, permanent officers were appointed, Mr. A. JOHNSON being appointed as Chairman, and CARL OLSON, as Secretary.

A. JOHNSON, Ch'n.
CARL OLSON, Sec'y.

MORE THIEVING.—Mr. KIRWIN, who resides in the Second Ward, informs us that his house was entered on Friday last, during his absence, and $26 in silver taken therefrom.

La Crosse and St. Paul Steamboat Line.

Capt. Davidson, than whom no man is better and more favorably known, and we may add, more fully appreciated on the upper waters of the Mississippi, has established a permanent line of fast light draught steamboats between La Crosse and St. Paul, to run in connection with the La Crosse, Milwaukee & Chicago Railroad.

The Boats in this Line, are at present, the Favorite, Capt. Davidson's own boat, the Frank Steele, and the Wenona. Three boats well and deservedly known, fully appreciated by the traveling and shipping public, and we know will be largely patronized. Two more light draught boats, exclusively for freight, will be put on this line by Capt. Davidson, in a few days. This is done for the purpose of facilitating the speedy transportation of the vast amount of wheat to be exported from this State during the season.

We hope to see this enterprize fully rewarded with the confidence and patronage of all the shippers of this city. We have repeatedly been victimized by, and held completely at the hands of a merciless, avaricious monopoly, known as the "Galena Packet Company," for the past five years; and now we hail with delight this new Line, as it will prevent in the future a repetition of the many acts of which the public have complained of receiving at the hands of the "Packet Company." To everybody we would say remember the La Crosse and St. Paul Line, if you want to travel or ship.—Huetings (Minn.) Democrat of Aug. 25th.

☞ Since Mrs. C. commenced using DR LAND & CO.'s Saleratus, she declares that her husband's expression of countenance has wonderfully improved. She says that the difference in the quality of the bread, pastry, &c., has undoubtedly effected this desirable condition of temper on the part of Mr. C. Good, sweet, wholesome bread, she believes, has a very perceptible and gratifying effect upon the disposition. DR LAND & CO.'s Saleratus is manufactured at Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y. It is sold by most grocers and storekeepers, and can be bought at wholesale from the principal jobbers. aug30d&w2w

GENESEO, July 31, 1860.

Governor Seward's Western Trip.

We have received a letter from Governor SEWARD, in reply to the one addressed to him by the Committee of our Central Republican Club, inviting him to visit our city and address the people here, intimating his wish and purpose to do so, if it will not interfere with other and previous engagements. Governor SEWARD will be at Detroit on the 4th of September and will there decide definitely what day he may be looked for in Milwaukee. It will probably be Saturday the eighth of September. Gov. SEWARD is accompanied by Hon. GEORGE W. PATTERSON, Gen. NYE, and others of his New York friends, whom we may also hope to hear during their sojourn in Milwaukee.

Free Homesteads.

The N. Y. Tribune calls attention to the position of the different political parties on the Homestead question. We copy from its article on the subject the following:

That John Bell and Stephen A. Douglas have sometimes—perhaps generally—voted for some sort of a Land-Reform bill looking in the direction of Free Homes, is true. That Mr. Douglas, some years ago, spoke in the right side of the Main Question, is also true. But the parties which present them respectively as candidates for President—the platforms on which they stand before the country—are cast at all in sympathy with those votes; while the Republican party, by its efforts, its arguments, its votes, has been a Free-Homestead party, and still is. Read once more the formal declaration of its sentiments in the platform of its late National Convention at Chicago:

"That we protest against any sale or alienation to others of the Public Lands held by actual settlers, and against any view of the Homestead policy which regards the settlers as paupers or supplicants for public bounty; and we deem the passage by Congress of the complete and satisfactory Homestead measure which has already passed the House."

This declaration stands alone. No other party has anything like it. Neither the Cincinnati nor any former Democratic platform—neither the Douglas nor the Breckinridge addition to that platform—has a word in favor of free grants of public lands to actual settlers, nor anything of the nature. For the "Constitutional Union" party ever peeped on that subject. Neither in the original American National Platform of 1855, in the Fillmore Convention Platform of 1856, nor in any other authentic utterance of the present "Union" party, or its predecessors, has there ever been a word of cheer for the advocates of Free Homes. Its members of Congress have nearly all voted against the Free-Homes policy in any shape, though Mr. Bell has probably limited himself by no opposite course. The party is clearly not for Free Lands, any more than is either wing of the Sham Democracy.

On the question of FREE HOMESTEADS, as of PROTECTION to AMERICAN INDUSTRY, and the IMPROVEMENT of our RIVERS AND HARBORS, the Republican party is the only one which has taken distinct and decided ground in the affirmative. Let the friends of FREE HOMES, of Home Interests and Enterprise, and of Western Commerce, bear in mind this fact and stand by the party which stands by them.

The Third Congressional District.

In the letter from Attorney-General JAMES H. HOWE, which we published last Saturday, declining to be a candidate for the Republican nomination in the Third District, the types made him pledge the "Western" part of the District to the support of the Republican nominee, whoever he should be, when Mr. HOWE intended, of course, to speak for the Northern portion, where he himself resides, and with the people of which he is thoroughly acquainted. In this connection we may state that Judge HOWE, as well as the Attorney General, declines the use of his name as a candidate for Congress. We need not say that we should have regarded his nomination as one most fit to be made.

The North-West All Right.

An intelligent citizen of Dunn county writes as follows to the Madison Journal:—

"The North-west is all right. Every Republican seems to be astir. Although there is not opposition enough to tell that any one is running for the Presidency only Old Abe, but every man appears to take hold and go determined to make the thing sure. There is a large LINCOLN club in every town. The farmers are nearly done their harvest, and their attention will now be given to the cause of liberty and truth. You may expect, and you will hear a satisfactory report from the Northwest in November."

DOUGLAS IN CONNECTICUT.—The Georgetown seem to be having as much ill fortune down in the land of steady habits, as any in Missouri, Kentucky, etc. The Hartford Daily Post, comes to us, daily, with a column of reports of the election of delegates, to the Electoral Convention at Hartford, to-morrow, and as far as heard from, every delegate is opposed to fusion with the Breckinridge faction, and in favor of an out and out Douglas ticket and platform.—News, of yesterday.

While thus defiant and denunciatory towards the BRECKINRIDGE wing of the Democracy, the News coos as gently as a dove at the Know Nothings. It is now hand and glove with that proscriptive party. Heretofore, at every election, the News has filled its columns with denunciations of the Know Nothings, and appeals to our adopted citizens to distrust and oppose the Republicans for coalescing with their enemies. But the News is dumb on the subject now. The DOUGLAS men and the Know Nothings having formally "hitched teams," the latter are treated with all tenderness by the Democratic papers.

BELL AT THE SOUTH.—Very different arguments are used by ... commend Mr. BELL to Southern support, from those employed by his Northern ... ckers. Thus Mr. HILL, a BELL elector in Georgia, addresses these considerations to the people:

"I repeat, we have four candidates in the field, and of these John Bell is the only constitutional who has always voted directly against both the Wilmot Proviso and Squatter Sovereignty."

"John Bell is the only candidate who has voted directly in favor of protection!"

"John Bell is the only candidate who has declared that Slavery was the great element of our prosperity as a nation, and was right according to the laws of God and nature."

"John Bell is the only candidate who has declared that humanity to the slave, no less than justice to the master, required the diffusion and extension of Slavery."

"What excuse shall a Southern man render his conscience and his country for refusing to vote for John Bell?"

The "protection" spoken of by Mr. HILL, is not protection to American industry; but to slave property in the territories. On this point Mr. BELL will go as far south as either BRECKINRIDGE, or DOUGLAS.

AROUSED AT LAST.—The Richmond Enquirer is at last awakened upon the subject of the DOUGLAS and BELL coalition. It says that the fusion in New York "has thoroughly aroused the people of Virginia to a real sense of the issue presented. No two men in Congress occupied more antagonistic positions than BELL and DOUGLAS, and nothing but an unholy lust for the spoils could have prompted so unnatural a union."

"Capital should own Labor."

So thinks and says Mr. HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON, the DOUGLAS candidate for the Vice-Presidency. In his opinion, LABORERS, to be good for much, should be slaves. Such, too, is the prevailing sentiment in the State from which Mr. JOHNSON hails, and here is a sample of how they carry out the doctrine:

"MECHANICS FOR SALE."—The subscriber has on hand two excellent carpenters, three blacksmiths, and one wheelwright, all excellent mechanics in their lines, young, strong and healthy, of quiet and peaceable dispositions, and several of them quite pious, all of which will be disposed of at moderate rates. Persons in want of mechanics are invited to call and examine these, as they are all desirable workmen

W. G. PENNYFEATHER,
No. 40 Canal st., Savannah, Ga.

How do the Free and Intelligent Mechanics and Workingmen of the North fancy this illustration of the Democratic (?) doctrine, that "Capital should own Labor?"

MR. BRECKINRIDGE.—The editor of the Memphis Enquirer, Mr. JAS COLEMAN, telegraphed on the 17th of August to Mr. BRECKINRIDGE to enquire as to the truth of the rumor of his withdrawal. Mr. BRECKINRIDGE's reply was a model of brevity:

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 17.
JAMES COLEMAN: There is not a word of truth in it.
JNO. C. BRECKINRIDGE.

SYRIA.—Mr. ASCARIOUS, one of the Syrian commissioners from Beyrout, addressed a large meeting at Auburn, N. Y., several evenings since, in behalf of the sufferers by the recent massacres. Gov. SEWARD introduced him to the audience, and in doing so gave a brief but interesting account of Syria, the manners and customs of the Christians and the Druses. In the course of his remarks, he stated his belief that the Sultan of Turkey was disposed to afford the Christians every protection, but that in a manner he was powerless and unable to render necessary assistance. His soldiers were semi-barbarians. The difficulty of rapid communication, on account of the absence of railways and good thoroughfares, made it impossible for the Sultan to afford relief. A collection was made in the churches of Auburn, on Sunday last, for the destitute Christians, and $270 was the total amount realized.

A GAS SWINDLER.—A man named ROYLE but who has traveled under various aliases, has been arrested in Detroit for swindling the Gas Company. He pretended to vend a powder by the administration of which to gas metres no gas would be registered, however much might be burned. He sold this precious powder for the insignificant sum of five dollars, giving at the same time directions for its use. It is needless to say that the secret consisted of the peculiar adjustment of the meter rather than any efficacy of the powder. The Detroit Gas Company think they have been robbed in this way of about 27,000 feet per night. Some of the parties who had allowed their gas meters to be tampered with, have been arrested for conspiring to defraud. The fellow has been operating largely in other cities.

ENGLAND, FRANCE AND THE UNITED STATES.—The population of Great Britain (England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland,) by the census of 1858, was 28,664,362, and that of France by the census of 1858 was 36,205,792. The United States numbered 23,191,876 by the census of 1850, and the estimates of the present census, now in progress, range from 30 to 33 millions. In population, therefore, the three countries do not very widely differ.

STATE ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE.—The Madison Journal of Monday makes the following announcement:

"Dr. John Favill, of this city, has been selected by Dr. Clement, the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum, as his assistant. A better appointment could not have been made. Mr. F. is not only an excellent physician, but has the kindly and engaging manners that are especially desirable and necessary in managing the insane.

JOHN B. GOUGH, the celebrated lecturer, arrived at Boston on Wednesday, in the Arabia. Immediately on his arrival he received a letter signed by four hundred and eighty clergymen of different denominations, inviting him to a public reception at Tremont ample, on some day to be hereafter named.

PRENTICE, of the Louisville Journal, says he is not old. He says "we are not yet in the winter of life, nor even in the late autumn, but somewhere, we should say, in the early part of September. Reckoning life as a day, instead of a year, ours is about one o'clock P. M.

A ST. LOUIS PAPER says that the grasshoppers have eaten up the entire tobacco crop of Franklin county, and the last that was heard from, they were seated on the corners, begging every man that passed for a chaw.

THE steamer Daniel Drew recently ran from New York to Yonkers, a distance of 18 miles, in 39 minutes; from New York to Piermont, a distance of 25 miles, in 56 minutes, and from New York to Poughkeepsie, 75 miles, in three hours and ten minutes.

CENSUS OF IOWA.—Returns already received, warrant the conjecture, if not the certainty, that the population of Iowa, according to the census, will reach 700,000.

THE ONLY CROP that has turned out favorably in Cumberland county, Ill., is oats, and they are worth but 10 cents per bushel.

THE ST. LOUIS City Directory, recently published, shows an increase of 10,000 names since 1859.

ROBBERY OF THE TICKET OFFICE AT WHITE PIGEON.—The ticket office of the Southern Road at White Pigeon was boldly and successfully robbed last Saturday. The agent, Mr. William Weller, had occasion to step out of his office some ten minutes, and on his return the money drawer, containing over $200, was missing. After instituting a search, the drawer was found in the ladies' wash room, with some railroad tickets scattered about it; but the money was nowhere to be found. The agent having suspicions of one Finley Pauling, until recently in the employ of the Company, immediately had him searched, and afterwards arrested, and he is now in jail awaiting trial. Although a most thorough search has been made, we are informed that none of the missing money has yet been found.—Adrian (Mich.) Expositor.

UNPROFITABLE BUSINESS.—A few days ... in the Long Run.—A few days ... ed since a gentleman of our acquaintance ... ce a purchase of sugar for the use of ... his family, and after it had been received ... at his house, upon examination or ... was inclined to believe, like the man about his new barn, that the pile was a "little too low for the height of it," but on weighing it, it held out well in that respect; but, not being entirely satisfied with its appearance, he proceeded to analyze it, and out of six large table-spoonfuls he found half an ounce of beautiful white sand, which he thinks resembles the sand in the bluffs in and about this city. How the sand came into the sugar we are not informed.—St. Paul Pioneer & Dem.

POPULATION OF INDIANA.—The State Sentinel say the United States Marshal, in arranging the districts in the several counties in the State, for taking the census, estimated the population of Indiana at 1,440,000. The returns thus far received from the census takers, indicate that this estimate of the Marshal was about correct; and that the full returns will not vary the estimate but a few thousand either way.

ANOTHER $10,000 MATCH.—The Louisville Courier says C. F. Hare, Esq., has matched his famous colt Oysterman against Prophet, the property of F. Morris, Esq., of Westchester county, New York, for $10,000. Both are excellent stock, and the race, which will be run over the Fashion Course, about the time of the great sweepstakes between Planet, Congaree and Daniel Boon, will doubtless attract much greater attention.

HARVEST ACCIDENTS.—An Indiana correspondent remarks that threshing machine accidents are shockingly common in that State this season. He remarks: "We are making a moderate estimate when we say that thirty men have been killed, or wounded for life by threshing machines in Indiana during the present season."

REV. L. P. CLOVER, formerly of N. York, is now at Springfield, Ill., engaged in painting a full-sized portrait of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Douglas and the Republicans.

In several of his public speeches recently, as well as during his debate with Mr. LINCOLN in Illinois, Mr. DOUGLAS has referred to the fact, that, while the Lecompton Constitution was pending in Congress, the Republicans voted for the Crittenden-Montgomery amendment,—as a proof that they had abandoned their theory of Congressional power over the Territories, and had adopted his principle of Popular Sovereignty in its stead. We find some interesting statements of facts on this point in a speech made by Senator WILSON, at Bangor, Me., a few days since, in reply to Mr. DOUGLAS, from which we make the following extract:

"Mr. Douglas boastfully claimed yesterday that he 'employed' the Republicans to aid him in carrying out popular sovereignty and defeating the Lecompton Constitution; he charges that the Republicans abandoned their principles, and adopted popular sovereignty, and he asked if any Republican could deny that?

The Republicans never abandoned their great doctrine of the power and duty of Congress to prohibit Slavery in the Territories; the Republicans did not accept Popular Sovereignty as a principle; they were in a minority in both Houses of Congress; they were powerless to affirm or reject any measure; the Lecompton Constitution, making Kansas a Slave State, was pending; they knew that the people of Kansas, by at least ten thousand majority, were opposed to that product of fraud and trickery. A few South-Americans on the one side, and anti Lecompton Democrats on the other, proposed that the plan prepared by Mr. Crittenden, to refer that Constitution to the people of Kansas, should be agreed upon as a compromise.

Conference meetings were held, pledges given to defeat the Lecompton Slave Constitution, if we would, without any concession of principle, unite in the support of Mr. Crittenden's proposition—a proposition which could in no event pass the Senate. The Crittenden bill, with our united votes, could not pass, but the pledge was made by a few Americans from the South, and twenty-four Anti-Lecompton Democrats in the House, that they would stand firm and defeat the Lecompton Constitution. Knowing that the people of Kansas would vote that Constitution down, even if it should pass the Senate, of which there was no probability, the Republicans accepted the pledges tendered, and voted for the 'Crittenden-Montgomery bill,' which failed, as they knew it would, in the Senate.

The South Americans, true to their plighted faith, stood firm, but one half of the Anti-Lecompton Democrats violated their plighted word of honor, and voted for the English swindle. In that hour of apostacy, rumor said that Douglas himself wavered, and was only saved from supporting the 'English bill' by the iron will and inflexible resolution of the lamented Broderick. This was our position; we never wavered nor faltered in regard to our great central idea; but we were pledged to freedom, and we could with perfect consistency accept any reasonable plan to save Kansas from becoming a Slave State. That was Mr. Douglas view then, and he was frank enough to say so. While that measure was pending, Mr. Douglas said to me in the Senate Chamber that 'it was a slander to say that the Republicans were abandoning their principle of Congressional prohibition; if such a change should be made against them in his presence he should denounce it.'"

Great was my surprise, then, when I read in the public press that Mr. Douglas, in debate with Mr. Lincoln, had made the charge which he told me he would proclaim untrue if made in his presence. When Mr. Douglas returned to Washington in the Winter of 1859, I said to him in substance that we had fought together the Lecompton battle; that we had often held consultations in regard to that matter; and that I felt bound in honor to hold sacred what transpired in that great contest, of a personal character; but I felt indignant when I saw that he had made a charge against the Republicans which he knew to be unjust, and which he declared to me he would repel if made in his presence. He said that 'Lincoln pressed him so hard he had to take that position to save himself.' As Lincoln is pressing him very hard now, I suppose he is again making the charge to save himself."

Beautiful Squares.

The Quaker City can boast of no great "Central Park," but its citizens have a right to be proud of Washington, Independence, Penn and Franklin Squares.

The giant trees of Washington Square stretch their gnarled limbs out until they interlock, and make the shadiest vistas imaginable.

But it is Franklin Square which affords the most delightful promenade. The trees here, too, are large and shade-yielding, the graveled walks well kept, and the grass green and velvety. In the centre is a magnificent fountain, with a main and secondary jets, throwing the bright water high, until it comes down, glistening in the sun like a heavy summer shower. The air around is refreshingly cool

Everywhere amid the branches of the trees, squirrels leap hither and thither. The little fellows are safely housed in boxes fastened to the trees.

These animals are quite tame, and seem to fear no one. Every morning the keeper brings a basket of nuts and rings a bell.—The squirrels understand the sound, and rush from every part of the Square. In a few moments the little army is busily engaged in burying nuts, a scene at once lively and amusing. They regard the Square as their home, and like sensible inhabitants stick to it, and never go astray.

The same scene is enacted, though on a somewhat smaller scale, in Washington Square.

Of course, all these well ordered and lovely spots of ground are fashionable places of resort every morning, and especially at evening. Thousands of promenaders visit them daily.

FLEECES OF SPANISH SHEEP.—The Michigan Farmer having published an account of the shearing of some heavy fleeces of wool, at A. J. Hunter's, in the town of Franklin, on the 21 of June last, a correspondent, who was struck with their weight and desired to know of what blood were the sheep, and whether the fleeces were of more than one year's growth. To which Mr. Hunter replies:

"The sheep are all of pure Spanish blood and the wool was of one year's growth only. Five fleeces, among which was one ewe fleece weighing thirteen and one-fourth pounds, weighed upwards of one hundred pounds.—The heaviest fleece shorn from the flock was twenty-two and one-fourth, the lightest ten and one-fourth pounds. I have a small flock of ewes of the same blood that average a fraction over ten pounds of washed wool, and there are others in this vicinity, that will equal and perhaps beat mine."—Adrian (Mich.) Expositor.

A BUCKEYE PATRIOT.—One of the census takers, while engaged in enumerating the population at Concordia, Champagne county, O., encountered a veteran aged sixty-five years, named Jesse Harbour, who is the father of thirty-two children, the youngest being only three months old at the taking of the census. Mr. Harbour has been twice married, having fourteen children by his first wife, and eighteen by the second. The old gentleman is in comfortable circumstances and thus far has been unabled to present each of his children, on arriving at legal age, with eighty acres of land.

MR. MCKINSTRY, of Pewaukee, has between four and five acres of potatoes which, from present appearances, cannot be excelled by a similar number of acres in the Union. The yield, everything being favorable, will be immense—portions of the field are estimated at 500 bushels to the acre. And to make it still better, they are all very choice varieties. The potato crop is so large and prospect that low prices will rule, that the idea of appropriating a portion to the fattening of hogs is worthy of consideration. Pork always commands cash at remunerative prices. —Waukesha Freemen.

A SINGULAR CASE.—Some few weeks ago a little child of Thomas Manay, of Worcester, Mass., swallowed a horn button, that lodged across the passage of its stomach, and prevented the passage of any solid food. Since that time the child has been sick and ailing, and unable to keep anything down. On Saturday an emetic was given, the button made its appearance in upper air, and the child commenced eating ravenously again. It is supposed that its only food for three weeks has been the water that passed through the four holes of the button.

OPTICAL ILLUSION ON LAKE ERIE.—The Cleveland (Ohio) Herald, alluding to a tremendous thunder shower which passed over that city, says: "Between three and four o'clock next morning, the appearance of a vessel on fire was seen far out on the lake. Some persons thought they could distinguish the sails. During a heavy gust of wind the light disappeared. Such appearances are not unfrequent upon the lake, and more experienced men along the dock think there has been no vessel burnt."

RUNAWAY SNAKE FOUND.—The anaconda which escaped from the showman's box in the Mansion House, Troy, N. Y., some weeks since, has been found in the kitchen of that hotel, in snug quarters, between the cistern and heater, making himself known to a frightened cook by protruding his head and running out his tongue at her.

Dealers in Boots and Shoes,
THE CELEBRATED COPPER TOE!
WADSWORTH & WELLS,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Boots and Shoes,
80—LAKE STREET, CHICAGO—80.

WE OWN THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT for the sale of MITCHELL'S PATENT METALLIC TIPPED BOOTS AND SHOES, for and within the State of Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, and hereby give notice that all parties dealing in these goods within the above States, without having first obtained the right of us or our agents, will be dirrect infringers upon our EXCLUSIVE rights, and that as soon as we can survey or any infringement, shall demand proper and immediate redress.

We have made extensive arrangements with the most celebrated manufacturers, whereby we can fully supply the increasing demand with the best qualities of these tipped boots and shoes from our store in Chicago, each pair of which will be stamped and labeled with our name.

We shall recognize no Tipped goods within either the above States, but such as are thus stamped and supplied by us.

We will warrant in all instances one pair of child's copper-tipped shoes to out-wear two and oftentimes three or four pairs of equal quality without tips, as can be shown by very many testimonials, while the expense is but a trifle more, making an actual average saving to the consumer of near two hundred per cent.

Merchants and dealers in Boots and Shoes within the above states, can also find these Metallic Tipped Boots and Shoes for sale by the principal jobbers in Wadsworth & Wells, for sale by ATKINS, STEELE & WHITE, and BRADLEY & MASON of Milwaukee.

Pimples on the Face and Skin Diseases

ARE GENERALLY CAUSED BY ANIMALCULA burrowing in the skin. Dr. Trask's Magnetic Ointment, by its powerful and penetrating qualities, destroys every vestige of them, restoring health and beauty to the skin wherever applied, removing Tan and Freckles.

Inflamed or Sore Eyes.

A. G. Giddings, of North Read, Mich., says: "The Magnetic Ointment is the only remedy in use here for INFLAMED EYES. The Author of our country has so much faith in its curative powers in this disease, that he not only highly recommends it, but offers to forfeit the amount paid for it in each case, I think it a cure."

Piles.

Piles which are at this season of the year particularly troublesome, are cured at once by Trask's Magnetic Ointment; apply to the parts affected and smell of the pack.

Nervous or Sick Headache.

Apply the Ointment freely to the forehead and temples and back of the neck, also to the soles of the feet and palms of the hands. It will relieve the severest headache in thirty minutes.

The Way My Wife Came to Me.

A CAPITAL STORY.

[CONCLUDED.]

I cannot minutely follow out the events of the ensuing week. I will only say that I met the charming Miss Conyngham everywhere. I walked with her by the pier chain—Lady Gray, of course on the other side—sometimes danced with her, and once had the felicity of driving with her on the cliffs. I had preserved the secret of the ventilator, though in my own vindication I will state that I had never listened at it since I had known my neighbors. I kept my room in perfect quietude, and if I heard voices in the adjoining room, I would go out that I might not overhear the conversation; but there came a time, as I am about to tell you, when I stayed. It was, I think, about a week after my first acquaintance with the Conynghams through the ventilator, that, as I sat hastily answering my London correspondent, I became the unwilling eavesdropper to a violent altercation in the next room. I could not help but hear it. Lady Gray was taking sides with her niece against Mr. Conyngham. She complained bitterly enough of the treatment her sister's child sustained from an exacting father. He retorted by charging her with duplicity and his daughter with disobedience, and declaring that in this instance his authority should be respected by both of them. I found, as they proceeded, that it all hinged on Herr Von Holt's proposals; it seemed that he had been accepted for months by the father, and still persisted in pressing his suit, notwithstanding the evasion of the ladies. "He wished to marry at once," so said Mr. Conyngham; he was tired of angling after a mere girl whose head was apparently turned after a Yankee adventurer."

I felt a buzz in my ears as I heard the sneering remark—it was so then; they had understood my intentions—I heard Lady Gray say, in reply: "You are foolish, brother, to fancy such a thing; and Bess is too sensible to encourage a stranger."

Bess said nothing, and I was startled to hear the old gentleman say, "Look daughter, Von Holt is going to Dover to-morrow, thence home to Holland; and I had decided that you will go with him. A clergyman will come here to night at nine o'clock, to marry you; we have made our arrangements, you can now make yours." Mr. Conyngham continued to impress upon his daughter that necessity alone had thus hastened the marriage, and that they must make the best of it. He then went out, probably to report to Von Holt.

"What can you do, dear Bess?" asked Lady Gray, so soon as he was gone.

"Great Heavens? I don't know, but I will never marry that bad man. I must conceal myself until night comes, and then fly away somewhere."

"Yes, that is it, you must run off; I will see that a carriage is in readiness, and my maid Betty will go with you to Bardwell depot, to take the train. You can both go down to Cousin Egbert's; he will conceal you till this hurricane has blown over.

"Yes, aunt," replied Bess, after a little, "I think it the best way for me to adopt in this emergency; I thank you for the help which I so much need."

"No thanks, darling, and the sooner it is arranged the better. I will go now to see about it."

Directly she left the room I raised myself upon the high chair, by the opening in the wall; I was irresolute; I hardly durst look in, and yet I must do it, I must let her know that I heard it all, and that she had a friend to help her. I cautiously peeped over and met—Miss Conyngham's eyes. She too had climbed a chair, probably to see where or what the ventilator led into, and we met face to face. I bowed and blundered an apology about her being in trouble, and—

"You need not proceed," she interrupted quietly, "I presume you have heard the wrangling from this room?" She said it quietly, but with a face pale as snow.

"Yes, I heard it all, and I am ready to help you, if it should cost me my life; I would give my life for yours."

She colored at my vehemence, and her eyes were instantly suffused with tears. Her emotion emboldened me.

"Give me the right to protect you," I cried. "The right to call you mine will forever place you beyond the power of that man. I cannot speak of myself, but whatever you wish to know of me you can ascertain of Mr. Lovelace; Lady Grey can ask him."

"Pray, sir, do not talk in that way," she said, yet I saw she was not angry.

"No, I would not," I answered, "I could not speak, on so immature an acquaintance, if it were not that you are in trouble, and need a friend; how can I otherwise supply the office? Let me beg of you to consider that, while there is time to consider—and this is what my heart would prompt me to say with better acquaintance."

"Yes," she said, simply but earnestly, "that you are rash. I dare not thus woo fate.—You will adopt that, we will know each other better, before—"

"No, no," I exclaimed, "we shall never know each other better; it is rash to delay; if we postpone our designs they will be frustrated. Who is there but a husband that can preserve you from the passion of that bad man. Your father, forgive me for thus alluding to him—but I heard last night that he lost everything to Von Holt, at faro—thus he is powerless to protect you."

"I expected as much," she said sadly.

"Do then give me the right to protect you."

"Not now, urge me no more."

"But will you decide to-day? Meet me on the beach after dinner and tell me there. Promise to meet me?"

"Yes, I will go, if I am not prevented. I must consult Lady Grey first."

She slipped down from the chair and was gone in a minute. I did not finish my letter that morning, but went out to engage a carriage and four, and make other preparations for a rapid leave taking of Brighton.

Bess met me, as she promised, on the beach. Lady Grey, whose presence I had no reason to regret, was with her, and was a strong advocate in my favor. She said we could never hope to change Mr. Conyngham's prejudices; his daughter was a minor, and still subject to her father's control and disposal; and though she would not advise us, yet she would not withhold her consent, if we concluded to fly together. After saying so much, she kindly walked on, leaving me to urge my cause, which was indeed her cause also, with Bess. I succeeded so well that she promised to marry me that night—The words had barely escaped her lips when we met Von Holt, who scowled upon me, and gave my companion a glance of distrust and displeasure. So soon as he was out of sight, I left the ladies and hurried up the flinty street to the parsonage. The old clergyman was willing to come down; he had already, he said, promised to marry a couple at No. 54 at 9 o'clock, and he could easily come down an hour earlier to No. 30. I designated my own room as the place to meet me, but we had decided that the ceremony should be performed in Lady Grey's parlor, a room adjacent to Miss Conyngham's own.

After concluding the arrangements with the clergyman, and obtaining a license, I hastened back to prepare my luggage and send it to the depot. At 8 o'clock, everything on my part was ready, and I sat in the large arm chair beneath the ventilator, waiting for the signal that would indicate that Miss Conyngham was ready. The signal did not come, but in its place I heard a low voice repeating my name. I sprang up; there stood Bess.

"I am locked in," she exclaimed in terror. "Her Von Holt saw us together and informed my father, and he says I shall not leave this room, or communicate with my aunt even, until the clergyman comes at nine o'clock. He suspects us, you and I, of eloping."

Only one moment was I confounded; in the next an expedient occurred to me; but would Bess take advantage of it, that was the question?

"Wait a moment," I said, "until I write a note to your aunt, Lady Grey." It was written and sent; and in five minutes Lady Grey and her maid stood at my door. I briefly informed her of the facts, and suggested her only chance of flight. Bess must come through the ventilator. The clergyman would be there in fifteen minutes, and we could be married in my parlor, instead of Bess's.

"She can never do it," exclaimed her ladyship.

"She must," I firmly replied.

"Well, we will abide by her decision," she answered.

I jumped up, and in half a dozen words told Miss Conyngham of the hope remaining to us; would she avail herself of it?

"Yes," was her quiet reply.

The word was no sooner spoken than I began to cut away with my knife a piece from the panel of the door, in which revolved the axis of the ventilator. The glass was soon removed, and the ventilator free of incumbrance. I reached through, whispering to the trembling girl to come at once. She sprang up without hesitation, and in five minutes she was safely by my side. I then hastened to put back the window in its place that the vacuum might not excite suspicion.

Bess had a short time to compose herself before the clergyman entered. He began the ceremony directly, and I was soon the husband of the loveliest girl in the world. As I was paying my five pounds lecture fee, I heard a door unlocked in the adjoining room and a loud exclamation, accompanied by an oath. I did not wait for the denouement, but hurriedly bade Lady Gray and the clergyman good-bye; the latter, by the way, I saw going around to the performance of the other ceremony at nine o'clock—and carried off Bess in the carriage. We went to London that night by rail. The next week I got a letter from home with permission to return. I availed myself of it, and brought my English wife to America, and to this day I hold in reverence the ventilator, for by what other way could my wife have come to me?—London Family Herald.

THE MOST THRILLING OF ALL modern intrigues, embracing an astounding combination of eighty thousand moving and acting models of men, horses and animals, no exhibition in the world has ever created so profound a sensation.—The Panopticon was exhibited in London to the nobility, aristocracy and gentry for a period of twenty consecutive nights.

It is not a Panorama painted on a few hundred feet of flat canvas, but a scientific and faithful presentation of actual occurrences, re enacted with newl design accuracy, by mechanical models, endowed by Genius with the correct motion and impressions of vitality. No description can approach a shadow of the reality of this triumph of mechanism and the wonderful corps of its most accomplished and expensive company of art ever exhibited.

The wheat market was very active to-day, and closed firm at an advance of 2c on shipping grades. At the opening buyers refused to pay more than yesterday and about 10,000 bus sold early at 89c for No. 1 spring in store, and 87c for No. 2. The market continued to gain in firmness as Eastern despatches arrived, and before the hour of 'Change an advance of 1c was conceded, which was followed by another improvement of 1c in the afternoon, buyers taking all the No. 1 that was offered at 91c in store. The sales amounted to about 59,000 bus, including a cargo of 15,000 bus No. 1 on private terms, understood to be at 93c free on board, 15c freight to Oswego.

Flour was higher, good country Extra bringing $4,40@4,50, but for want of freight room there was not much demand for shipment.

There was no change in coarse grains. Sales include 1,700 bus corn at 40c on the track, and 42c delivered, and 2 car loads of rye at 45c in store.

Freights were a shade higher, on account of scarcity of vessels. The schr. De Veles was chartered at 12c, and the schr. Lewis Ludington at 13c for wheat to Buffalo. The rates on flour by railroad and lakes continue the same, as follows:

To Buffalo	40c
Ogdensburgh	90c
New York	100c
Boston	115c
Portland	120c

The Detroit and Milwaukee Railway is taking wheat to Buffalo in from 2 to 3 days at 15c per bushel.

The receipts of all kinds of grain to-day amount to 41,526 bus, including flour; and shipments 86,974 bus.

CHOICE WHEAT.—The car load of choice Club wheat which we noticed yesterday as having brought $1 ₱ bushel, was sold by Messrs. HENTON & MANFIELD, not by Messrs. ELLIOTT & HOLMES, as we erroneously stated. It came from Mr. SWEET of Pond du Lac County, who raised 500 bus of the same kind on 30 acres of land.

Wheat Movement in Racine.

Beyond all doubt, Racine should be a shipping port for the products of the soil for that area of country drained by the R. & M. R. R It has as good warehouses and harbor for that purpose as Milwaukee, with this additional advantage—there is no trucking from depot to vessels. The cars run directly to the warehouses on the wharf, and vessels come alongside and load. Also, the present freight from Racine to Milwaukee can be saved; and the charges which it seems to be paid additional to the inland buyers, and the inland buyers can of course pay proportionately higher to farmers. Elsewhere in this paper, we have spoken of the relative importance of this section as a wheat exporting section, and the necessity for every thing that road directly past Racine to the Milwaukee market.—Delaware Journal.

The editor of the Journal ought to visit Milwaukee and inform himself how business is done in the commercial metropolis of the State. It would be strange indeed if Milwaukee, where from fifty to two hundred and fifty thousand bushels of grain are handled daily during the shipping season, should not have equally as good facilities as a place where average grain business does not amount to three thousand bushels daily during the year. The editor of the Journal should know that the "trucking" system has long since been dispensed with in Milwaukee, and that the freight cars from each of the railroads entering this city, run directly up to the docks and discharge grain into the elevators as fast as they can be weighed, and re-weighed after unloading. This process requires about three minutes for each car, and at one of our elevators six cars can be unloaded within that space of time. The grain cars from the Racine and Mississippi Railroad, by means of a side track, are drawn by horse power from the depot of the C. & M. R. R. to the warehouse of Messrs. KELLOGG & STRONG, a distance of about 15 rods, and thus all "trucking" avoided.

It may be perfectly clear to the editor of the Journal that "Racine should be the shipping port for the products of the soil for that area of country drained by the R. & M. R. R.," but the dealers along that road evidently think differently, for, notwithstanding the discrimination of about a cent and a half a bushel which the new freight tariff makes against Delevan and many other points on the road in shipping to Milwaukee—notwithstanding the recent promises of Racine dealers to pay the 'highest lake shore prices," at least two-thirds of the wheat shipped over the road continues coming to Milwaukee. A comparison of the ruling prices at Racine and Milwaukee will disclose the main cause of this movement. On Saturday, for instance, the same qualities of wheat brought from 6 to 10 cents ₱ bus better prices here than in Racine.—We will not say that the Racine buyers did not pay all the wheat was worth; and perhaps there were parties here who would not pay more for it; but admitting that, there were buyers enough here willing to pay the outside prices for all they could get. This thus trates the advantages to the seller of a large market where speculation and competition keep prices up to the highest notch, especially in times, like the present, when the markets fluctuate from hour to hour.

The regular wheat speculators here are not a bit anxious that the wheat from the Racine & Mississippi Railroad should come to Milwaukee. If it comes here they have to pay full prices for it; at Racine they can buy it for 3 to 6 cents below the market price as a general thing. We know of one heavy dealer of this city who at the present time has an agent at Racine buying wheat, and he has already purchased a cargo at a wide margin below what he would have had to pay for it here, even after deducting the agents' commission for buying it. That gentleman has especially requested us to "dry up" about Racine prices, but we don't propose to accommodate him until the subject has had a thorough airing.

The Journal thinks the reason why so much wheat is going right past Racine to Milwaukee, is because Racine buyers have not acted in good faith in former years—in short that some of them have been dishonest, and that Racine has gained a bad name through their operations. In referring to the recent action of the Racine dealers to check the tide of grain flowing to Milwaukee, the Journal says:

Several years has the same effort been made in the early part of the buying season, and the complaint alone here, is, that they have played fout at the last. Car loads, somehow or other, and a strange habit of taking short at Racine, while they were heavy enough at Milwaukee; or at a favorable time in the season, after large quantities were stored the prices would drop ruinously—or, for some unknown purpose, the grain failed of being sold or moved off, and had to lie over in store, and the parties kept out of the returns, &c., &c., all showing bad faith and dishonest practice. On the contrary, with Milwaukee, so far as we have learned, buyers express themselves satisfied, there has been little or no cause of complaint. Consequently they are mistrustful of the movements now being made to secure the traffic.

We will not endorse the Journal's charge of dishonesty against the Racine dealers. It is perfectly natural for business men to take advantage of circumstances favorable to themselves without regard to the interests of others. Consequently Racine dealers have taken advantage of difference between rates of freight to that place and Milwaukee, and the comparatively trifling competition there, to buy wheat, when they found a good stock on the market, on more favor able terms for themselves, and less favorable to the sellers than would otherwise have been the case. Perhaps Milwaukee dealers would have done the same under like circumstances.

As we have already stated, the only remedy for buyers along the road—and it is the only means by which Racine prices can be kept up to the Milwaukee standard—is to call upon the railroad company to modify their tariff so as to give dealers at all points on the road the choice of both markets on equal terms. Our word for it, this would soon produce a healthy reformation in the Racine market, and at the same time largely augment the traffic of the road.

In concluding its article, the Journal says that it is authorized by the grain buyers in Delevan, "to say that they shall pay as high prices as are paid at any point which seeks Milwaukee as a market, without reference to any changes or movements that may be made effecting the freight question."

MILWAUKEE MARKETS, Aug. 27.—The Sentinel says that the receipts of wheat at that port last Saturday were 25,207 bus; flour, 613 bbls; oats, 2,627 bus. During the past week:

Flour, bbls	8,169
Wheat, bus	150,021
Corn, bus	726
Oats, bus	2,627
Barley, bus	1,000
Rye, bus	2,939

The above, for a whole week in Milwaukee, would hardly equal the receipts for three hours in Chicago. —Chicago Press & Tribune of to-day.

We invite the Press & Tribune to keep up the comparison, weekly, from now till the close of navigation, and we will promise to republish the receipts at each city regularly, believing that Milwaukee will suffer nothing by the contrast. The receipts at Chicago have been very much larger than at Milwaukee for the last four weeks we admit, but in the leading article, wheat and flour, we venture to say that within the next four weeks the difference will be in favor of Milwaukee. Then we shall see whether the Press & Tribune will be as willing as it is now to publish the statistics of our grain trade.

The receipts at Chicago for the present week will show a decrease of about one hundred per cent, as compared with those of last week, while the indications are that there will be an increase in the receipts at Milwaukee of nearly if not quite a hundred per cent. The railroads that are now bringing here from four to ten thousand bushels, in less than a month, should there not be any serious reaction in the market, will each be delivering from twenty to fifty thousand bushels daily. The wheat harvest in the country tributary to Chicago was at least three to four weeks earlier than in Wisconsin, Northern Iowa, and Minnesota, and hence the excess in receipts at Chicago as compared with Milwaukee during the last few weeks. But even under these circumstances, the receipts of wheat at Chicago since the beginning of the year are only a few hundred thousand bushels larger than at Milwaukee for the same period, and we will bet the Press & Tribune a new hat, that before the crop of 1860 is marketed, the difference in the receipts at the two cities will be in favor of Milwaukee. Will the Press & Tribune take us up?

RACINE MARKET, MOONDAY.—The Racine Journal of this morning says that there were no sales yesterday, and that prices were "nominally the same" as on Saturday, viz: 92@84 for No. 1 Spring, and 89@81 for No. 2.

CHICAGO MARKET, AUGUST 27TH.—Receipts of flour and grain at Chicago, yesterday, and the sources of supply, will be seen by the following statement:

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The News Scotian, with Liverpool dates to the 16th inst., was telegraphed this evening, reporting an advance in all kinds of breadstuffs.

The local market to-day was tolerably active and buoyant—prices having advanced full 2c ₱ bushel. At the opening the market was quiet, with sales of No. 1 Spring at 89@89½c, and No. 2 Spring at 86@86½c; but with the news of the New York market, prices advanced to 92 and 94c, and after the receipt of the steamer's dispatches, the market closed very firm at 96@96c. Nearly 500,000 bushels of all grades changed hands, at 89@96c for No. 1 Spring in store; 80@86c for No. 2 Spring; and 72@76c for Rejected Spring. Besides an active shipping inquiry for Wheat at the close, there was a good speculative demand, and about 25,000 bushels No. 2 Spring were sold at 86@86½c for delivery in all June next, buyers' option. Winter wheat was quiet and firm and the transactions very limited. Flour was in active demand, and the transactions were largest at full rates. About 2,000 brls changed hands at $4 35@4 45 for fair to choice Spring extra. The Corn market opened quiet and lower; but as soon as the improvement by the steamer was known, it stiffened considerably and closed firm. The transactions amounted to about 40,000 bushels at 52c for River Yellow afloat; 36@37c for No. 1; 35c for No. 2, and 33½c for Rejected. Oats were in good request and firmer—with sales of about 10 000 bushels at 21c afloat, 22c f. o. b., and 19@20c in store. Rye is in better request. A lot of 1,000 bushels sold at 50@53c on track. Highwines were a shade firmer. Mess Pork is firm, and we note sales at $19.00, for shipment east.

Freights were quiet and dull. Several propellers and sail vessels were engaged, at 10c for corn and wheat to Buffalo, and 17c for wheat to Oswego,

RAILWAY MATTERS.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD.

A remarkable illustration occurred Tuesday, on the New York Central Railroad, of the wonderful resources of the road, and its readiness for emergencies. At 12 o'clock, noon, a rain storm came up, with such a copious fall of water as to swell all the small streams and creeks in the Mohawk valley. The water came pouring down in torrents, and at 1 o'clock carried away three bridges between Palatine and Fonda, one known as Schell's Bridge, of two spans and double track, the others single spans. At 12 o'clock at night, just eleven hours from the time of the accident, all three bridges were laid anew and in perfect order, notwithstanding the rain was still falling, and the mid-night trains passed over them safely. These bridges have never been touched before by any flood since the road was built.

The secret of the quick work is that it is a part of the complete system and organization of the road to hold in readiness at proper intervals cars filled on with bridges and bridge timbers, derricks, bars, tools and implements of every kind, ready for any emergency. While these bridges were being repaired or rather made new, about two hundred miles from the spot on the road an immense body of men were at work repairing the damages done at Brighton by a break in the canal, which had dashed away a large portion of both tracks. Such energy and efficiency in meeting disasters of this nature are worthy of all commendation.—N. Y. Courier.

GRAND CHANCE TO SECURE A HOME upon such terms that any one who has any industry can do it. Mr. Glidden, who owns one-half of Lockwood & Glidden's Addition, has made me his agent, and I shall drive him. The lots are all sold by a few pieces, to any one who will improve them, and upon such terms that any one can meet the payments. It is unnecessary for me to go into details to convince one who has any judgment that this property, which is situated in the First Ward, must, and will be, the most valuable property in the city of Milwaukee. It is in full view of the Lake and on high ground which overlooks the city and a more pleasing view cannot be had. Several of the heavy business men is very desirable, the lots are Reduced passing through it every street in the Addition. Which more could be given, but this valuable property, but we will only say, any person who may any desire to purchase a lot, can call at my office, and if they do not see a map and I will go with them and show them the lots, and they can judge for themselves. The terms which I will sell the lots are as follows: Ten per cent in twelve months; 15 per cent, in two years; and 25 per cent, every year thereafter until the whole is paid, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, interest not to commence until six months after the date of purchase. Those who chance now before others, and there is every reason to believe that this property will advance 100 per cent. in less than twelve months. The terms are more favorable than ever before offered, and I will make it very desirable. The lots are free from all encumbrances whatever. Certificates of title will be furnished to any one who desires. CALEB WALL.
